Polio Campaigns launched in Niger and Central African Republic

Visiting Rotarians are among thousands of volunteers and health professionals working together to help kick polio...Out of Niger, which is one of four African countries and a total of seven worldwide where children still suffer from the crippling disease.

"Half of the world's population now lives in polio-free areas," said Dave Groner of the Rotary Club of Dowagiac, Michigan, who, together with wife and fellow club member, Barbara, is leading the team U.S. volunteers. "However, it is vital that we continue our efforts to reach every child with the vaccine if we are to achieve a polio free world. No child today should suffer from polio as an effective vaccine has made it totally preventable."

In order to stem the spread of the poliovirus, a global health strategy calls for mass immunizations in all polio-endemic countries and those countries that share borders with Nigeria, Pakistan, and India. "This strategy responds to the fact that no child is safe from polio until this crippling disease is eradicated worldwide".

Pakistan president, government officials pledge to eradicate polio

Government officials in Pakistan, including President Pervez Musharraf, are pulling out all the stops to ensure that their country is quickly rid of polio.

"As Pakistan is still one of only three remaining polio reservoirs, the importance of President Musharrafs commitment to polio eradication cannot be underestimated," said WHO Regional Director Dr Hussein A.Gezaury, who attended the 12 September meeting. "Although Pakistan's polio eradication program has made substantial progress since the early 1990s and transmission has dropped by 90 percent, now more than ever it is critical that every effort is made to reach every child in Pakistan."

RI general secretary joins Ethiopian Rotarians in SNIDS

At a 7 December press conference with representatives of Rotary's partners in the global polio eradication initiative, the RI general secretary noted that no new cases of polio have been reported in Ethiopia for two years - contrasting sharply with the situation in 2000 when 144 cases were reported. " This decline is due to an intense vaccination program supported by Rotary International and its global partners including the World Health Organization, UNICEF, and US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention."

The Rotary Foundation has contributed more than US$5.7 million to Ethiopia's polio eradication efforts since 1985. On 2 December, 2003, R I President Jonathan Majiyagbe declared Carl Wilhelm Stenhammar to be the sole official nominee for president of Rotary International for 2005-06. A member of the Rotary Club of Goteborg, Sweden, Stenhammar will be formally Elected at the 2004 convention in Osaka.

For Some Rotary runs in the family

With the holiday spirit in the air, December Family Month on the Rotary calendar is a good time for the Rotary world to focus on the "Family of Rotary" initiative launched at the start of 2003-04. Aimed at encouraging clubs and districts to provide more opportunities for family members to participate in service and fellowship, the initiative also spotlights the many individual families that boast several generations of Rotarians.

Romanian children benefit from Rotarian initiative

A joint project by Rotarians in the United States and Romania is providing orphans in the eastern European country with real families, and those not yet placed into adoptive homes are finding that the family of Rotary has a large heart.

It all started in 1991 when Marvin Tieman of the Rotary Club of McMinnville, Tennessee, USA, traveled to Bucharest, Romania, with his wife, Diann, to adopt their son, Michael, now 15. He was saddened to find that the country has a huge orphan population with very few local families willing or able to adopt them.

"Unless you look at problem face-to-face lots of times you just look right over it," he says. "But once you look one of those kids in the eye, you can't get over the need to do something for them."

Not surprisingly, he kept going back. In 1999 he adopted a second child, Andreea, 8, and three years later Rachael, 9. "We've been blessed with these three kids," he says. "Whatever we've done for them and other Romanian kids, it was all done because of Rotary."
